Connect & Be Social

SURVIVAL TIP #1 Get Involved

College is about trying new things and meeting new people. Herkimer College provides all kinds of opportunities for students to connect with each other and explore new types of activities, ideas and experiences.

Students can get involved through clubs & organizations, athletics, intramurals, campus activities, or leadership roles, as well as by meeting new friends at the game room, rec gym, pool, or indoor track. Volunteer opportunities are another great way to meet people and to make a difference on campus and in the community.

SURVIVAL TIP #2

Connect on Social

Connect with each other and the college.

herkimer.edu/social

Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and other social media sites are great ways to stay in touch with friends from home, make new ones once you arrive and get involved in Herkimer College life. There are also points that students should think about when using technology to talk with others:

Familiarize yourself with privacy settings on your account(s) to monitor who can see your profile. Although privacy settings can reduce the risk of personal material entering the public eye, even these aren't foolproof.

Once you post something, it may live long after you take it down – future employers, teachers and even your parents might see what you've posted!

Google your name. See what is online about you.

Don't share personal information, like your class schedule or address.

Have fun with your profile, but be safe, legal and responsible!

Think before you post.

As a student, faculty or staff member, or visitor to the campus of Herkimer County Community College or at an event not on campus, but sponsored by Herkimer College, you grant permission to Herkimer College and its clients, or agents, full permission to use, publish, and copyright, either in whole or in part, photographs or other images or likenesses of yourself in the form of videotape, film or digital stills, or any other medium. Such material may be used with or without your name in publications, television, billboards, online, social media and other media for promotion and advancement of the College. You give this permission without expectation of any remuneration. If you do not consent to this general permission, you must contact the Director of Public Relations, in writing, at Herkimer College, 100 Reservoir Road, Herkimer, NY, 13350.

SURVIVAL TIP #3

Know Your Advisor

They make suggestions but you make the decisions. PARTICIPATE in your appointments and let your advisor get to know you and your needs.

Your academic advisor is familiar with the courses you are taking and serves as your primary resource for degree requirements, as well as to provide a personal connection to Herkimer College services.

Tips to use your Academic Advisor to your advantage:

Prepare yourself for each advisement session.

Be knowledgeable about the requirements of your programs of study.

Inform your advisor of changes that affect your academic performance and educational goals (full-time/part-time, curriculum change, etc.)

Follow through on actions identified during advisement sessions.

Be aware that final responsibility for the actions you take rests with YOU.

Educate yourself on program requirements, campus policies and procedures.

If your major no longer fits your needs, contact your academic advisor to discuss your options.

Find out who your academic advisor is in MyHerkimer under Student Online Services! Undecided students can also get help with career exploration by contacting CareerServicesCenter@herkimer.edu.

SURVIVAL TIP #4

Exercise Your Body

Exercise is a great way to let off steam, have some fun, and meet new people. Herkimer College provides many opportunities for you to do just that!

Exercise doesn't require a lot of money.

At Herkimer College you can take advantage of the beautiful 500-acres of rolling hills and miles of nature trails by taking a vigorous walk or run, biking, practicing yoga, or playing catch with a friend.

There are many benefits to exercising:

- #1 It can reduce stress and make you feel happier.
- #2 It can increase your energy levels.
- #3 It can help skin health.
- #4 It can help your brain health and memory.
- #5 It can help with relaxation and sleep quality.

SURVIVAL TIP #5

Keep a Sharp Mind

Get acquainted with the Library, flex your creativity by working on a College publication, or challenge yourself with the Honors Program.

The Library can help you get your brain in tip-top shape!Type a paper or browse the web.

There are many computers for student use.

Study alone or with a friend.

The Library is a quiet, comfortable study area with study rooms available for group work or study sessions.

Honors Program

This program provides qualified students with additional opportunities to expand their intellectual and artistic growth and to enrich their individual skills and abilities. Honors Program students work on an independent project in one-credit courses during two different semesters. The student selects a concentration area, designs the project with a mentor and works independently to complete it. During the fourth semester, students enroll in an Honors Seminar course—a nontraditional, interdisciplinary course that provides an opportunity to use a variety of higher level learning techniques and interact with others who excel academically. Students who successfully complete the Honors Program are given special recognition by the College at commencement.

Share your creativity! Interested in writing, photography or the arts? Submit work for our literary and arts publication, Phaethon, or join the staff of The General, our new student-run online newspaper.

SURVIVAL TIP #6

Stay Mentally Healthy

It's common for students to become overwhelmed by challenges. Counseling services can get you through it and provide support to keep you in the game. Call to set up an appointment.

Attending college can be a significant transition. It can be challenging, exciting and stressful—all at the same time. It's easy to become overwhelmed. We encourage you to reach out as soon as you feel the need. If we can't help you, we'll refer you to college offices, community services, or emergency services that can.

We provide students with the opportunity to speak one-on-one with a professional counselor about problems which could interfere with personal growth and academic achievement. Students may seek out counseling for concerns with family, roommates, relationships, stress, anxiety, adjustment to college life, academics, substance abuse, sexual assault or depression. We offer individual, couples, and group counseling. All services are confidential.

FACT:

Almost one third of all college students report having felt so depressed that they had trouble functioning. Depression is not a weakness, but a health disorder that is treatable.

KNOW THE FACTS

By knowing the facts and available resources, you could help save a life.

An estimated 26 percent of Americans ages 18 and older, or about 1 in 4 adults, live with a diagnosable mental health disorder.

1 of 8 emergency department visits involves a mental health or substance use condition.

Need more information?

Your Student Handbook is filled with lots of important facts that will get you through your first year at Herkimer College.

Sexual Violence Prevention & Response Policy

For a complete copy of the Sexual Violence Prevention and Response Policy, please see your Student Handbook.

The State University of New York and Herkimer College want you to get the information and support you need regardless of whether you would like to move forward with a report of sexual violence to campus officials or to police. You may want to talk with someone about something you observed or experienced, even if you are not sure that the behavior constitutes sexual violence. A conversation where questions can be answered is far superior to keeping something to yourself. To confidentially report the incident to a college or community official, who by law may maintain confidentiality, and can assist in obtaining services:

When in doubt, stay put and do what you are told.

In cases such as a tornado, you may be directed to evacuate classrooms and offices with windows and shelter in place in hallways, closets, and other interior spaces away from windows.

When an imminent threat to the safety of the campus community exists, we will activate a Shelter-in-Place directive.

SEVERE (Code Red)
Communicated with NY-Alert and Campus Siren

- Immediately lock yourself and any other uninvolved persons in a classroom or office. If possible, cover windows or openings that have a direct line of phone, but you can still receive NY-Alert messages.
- Do not sound the fire alarm as this can put occupants in harm's way during evacuation.
- Call 911 with any information that may be useful to responders (if you can).
- Remain as calm as possible.
- If you are outside, stay out of open areas and be quiet.

MODERATE (Code Blue)

Q: Should I treat my Herkimer College mailbox like my other e-mail accounts?

A: You should be aware that Herkimer College has a policy regarding unacceptable use of student e-mail. Failure to adhere to the policy may result in a loss of all computer access at Herkimer College. Students should refrain from:

Q: I already have an e-mail address. Can't I just use that one?

A: Students are free to keep e-mail accounts in addition to Herkimer College-assigned ones; however, the Herkimer College-specific e-mail account is the only address we will use to contact you regarding official College announcements and emergencies. Additionally, faculty and administrative offices will only accept student e-mails from the College-provided e-mail accounts.

Q: How do I access my Herkimer College e-mail account?

A: Download the Microsoft Outlook app from your phone/tablet app store and sign in using your Herkimer email address and password. OR From residence halls and off campus: <https://outlook.office.com/mail/>

Q: What is my username?

A: Your username is the first seven characters of your last name, first name initial and the last three digits of your H#. There are no spaces in the username. For example, John Smithers, with an H# of H0000123 would have a username of smitherj123. Your initial password is your date of birth MMDDYY without dashes or spaces.
